TERMS OF BUSINESS

Further to your recent enquiry, I am pleased to give details of Mr Mifsud's terms of business with regards to his medical expert work.

Hourly rate

Mr Mifsud's medicolegal work is charged at £250 per hour. This excludes the charge for the clinical examination.

Personal injury reports

Standard medicolegal reports with less than 1000 pages of notes relating to Personal Injury typically require 6-8 hours of work, and therefore usually fall within the range of £1500-2000. With more involved cases, the fee will be higher. Personal injury reports are prepared within around 8-12 weeks of receipt of instructions, including all the relevant medical records and relevant imaging, and of the clinical examination (if required), whichever is the latter.

Condition and prognosis reports

Causation and breach of duty reports are not done. However, where breach of duty has already been established, Mr Mifsud offers condition and prognosis reports. Condition and prognosis reports with less than 1000 pages of notes typically require 8-12 hours of work, and therefore usually fall within the range of £2000-3000. With more involved cases, the fee will be higher.

Desktop reports, where no consultation is required, can normally be prepared within around 6-8 weeks of receipt of instructions, including all the relevant medical records and relevant imaging, and of the clinical examination if required (see below).

Clinical review of patients

If a clinic appointment for a clinical consultation with a patient is required as part of a report, this would typically require an appointment of 45 to 60 minutes, and this is charged separately and will include clinic room fees. Such an appointment to see a patient can normally be arranged within 6 weeks of instructions being accepted. Medicolegal patients are seen regularly at weekly clinics in Oxford. The letter of instruction and notes must be received 2 weeks before the agreed clinic appointment. Mr Mifsud does not attend home/domiciliary visits or prison visits.

If these conditions are acceptable to you, please sign and date below and return to sender.

Please note, if not received on the same day, the timeframes for reports quoted above will commence upon receipt of the instructions and all the relevant documentation required for the report, and not the date of the acceptance of business terms.
